9.0 CITING AND LISTING REFERENCES

9.1 Use Author-Date System which is used in The Chicago Manual of Style to refer and list a reference in the references or bibliography list.

Example
In text This method is introduced by Boehm (1984).

In references or bibliography list, list the reference according to alphabetical order of the author’s family name. If more than one publication from the same author in the same year are being referred, small letter is added after the year of publication.

Example

In references list
Bungey, A. B. 2002a. “…….”
Bungey, A. B. 2002b. “…….”

If reference involves two or three authors, list all of the authors.

Example
In text This has been proven by Craton and Saunders (1992).

If reference involves four or more authors, list all of the authors in the reference list; in the text, list only the first author, followed by et al. ("and others"):

Example
In text This research finds that the method chosen is similar to Medhurst et al. (1990).

9.2 For the particulars needed for each type of publication (such as book, journal article, edited volume, thesis or dissertation, website and so on) refer to “Author-Date: Sample Citations” by choosing Author-Date tab at: http://www.chicagomanualofstyle.org/tools_citationguide.html.
